Selected Work Experience

Overtone Labs, Founder and CEO (radical.overtonelabs.co) Sep. 2017 - Present

Currently developing Radical, a platform designed to make honest, constructive conversation as easy and accessible as possible. To use a startup analogy, it's Reddit for spoken conversation. Users can create and discuss ideas and questions via private, live-audio conversations which are archived for sharing on the web. Also developing novel machine learning techniques to detect emotions in real-time. Built using Swift, and Node.js.

Frisbee, Senior Engineer March 2017 – Sep. 2017

Full-stack developer working with the team that created Facebook Live to build a video messenger catered to use with friends and family. Primarily worked on our iOS application, but also helped build out backend services in PHP. Regularly shipped new features like animated GIF reactions, beautifying video filters and a revamped video upload engine

EggStage Inc, Co-founder and CTO Jan. 2013 – Dec. 2017

This startup's goal was to create products that enhanced digital communication. Responsible for all engineering, design, and product development. Last product Murmur was a selfie-video forum centered on reinvigorating civic discourse. Other products include a Bluetooth based social-network set up across the UC Berkeley campus built using iBeacons, and a web platform for writing as a live-spectator event.

Chief Product Officer, Verlocal April 2014 – Aug. 2014

Helped develop and design the platform using Node.js and Javascript. Worked on user acquisition and content marketing and helped bring in the first set of hosts to the platform.
